[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT. 1.

EASTERN STATES.

Suicide in New Jersey.

PATTERSON, Aug. 31.—Walter Conkling, a friend of Alice Bowlesby, the victim of the New York abortionists, suicided this afternoon by shooting himself in the neck, dying in a few minutes. He was a son of Alderman Conkling. The cause is supposed to be his presumed complicity in the Bowlesby affair. Orders had been given at police headquarters to have Conkling arrested.

Exhibition at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, August 31.—The International Exhibition commenced to-day.

Gen. Hawley on Gen. Butler.

HARTFORD, August 31.—Gen. Hawley publishes the following card:

"Gen. Butler, in his Worcester speech, dates upon my change from the army of the James to Chief of staff under General Terry in North Carolina, as the time he displaced me for inefficiency and incompetency. He was relieved from command and sent to Lowell January 17, 1864. I did not change till more than two weeks after, when Gen. Ord was in command of that army, and Butler had nothing to do with it."

(Signed) JOS. R. HAWLEY.

Yellow Fever Abating at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 31.—There are no new cases of fever. Twenty of the persons attacked last week died to-day.

Cool Weather.

CHICAGO, August 31.—The weather for the past few days has been remarkably cool for this season of the year. A light frost is reported last night in parts of Iowa.

Heavy Robbery.

BOSTON, August 31.—The counting house of Baker & Morrill was robbed of $50,000 in bonds, railroad certificates, etc., to-day. The entire amount was found by a boy in a vault, who informed the police, who took charge of the property.

The Boston Disaster.

BOSTON, August 31.—At the inquest on the Eastern railroad disaster to-day, Brown, engineer of the Pullman train, was a witness. The testimony was to the effect that he knew of no train, after leaving Everett; that did not have twenty minutes the start of him. He had not reason to suppose there was another train within six miles of his, and was not running over twenty miles an hour. The first signal of danger he saw, was lights on the fatal train. When giving an account of the collision, witness was affected to tears and could hardly speak. The fireman testified in corroboration of the engineer's statement.

WASHINGTON CITY.

National Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The President arrived here to-day.

Senator Scott, Chairman of the Ku Klux Committee had an interview with the President and submitted a communication which was fully discussed, setting forth acts of violence perpetrated during the last few months in South Carolina, and for which no one was punished by the civil authorities. He called the President's attention to the facts, and recommended that he exercise the powers conferred by the Ku Klux act. He suggested the propriety of issuing a proclamation of martial law in York and Spartanburg counties, and that instructions be issued to military commanders in adjoining counties to arrest parties without process and hand them over to the civil authorities for prosecution. The President agreed to the suggestion and a proclamation preliminary to a declaration of martial law may soon be expected.

It is officially announced that Clews, Habricht & Co., of London, are appointed official agents of the United States Government for all foreign countries for which the agency has been held by Baring Bros. for thirty years, having been given them after negotiation of the Ashburton treaty out of compliment to Lord Ashburton, then a member of the firm.

The Secretary of the Navy to-day received some battle-flags captured by the naval forces at Corea with the names of captors.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

English Affairs.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Bullion in the Bank of England has decreased £511,000. The total amount now in the vault is £25,044,138.

Russell, member of Parliament for Limerick, is dead.

Paul DeKock, the novelist, is dead.

A Berlin despatch from Gubernimement, in East Russia, says that in the village of Chinachow, with a total population of 479, there are already 89 cases of cholera, forty-six of which are fatal.

French Affairs.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Conservative organs are satisfied with yesterday's Assembly. They say the majority reconstructed again in Radicalism will support Thiers.

It is reported the Deputies of the left will resign in a body.

VERSAILLES, Aug. 31.—In the Assembly today Picard made a fervent appeal for harmony in the Chamber and elsewhere. He said it was the duty of all Frenchmen in the presence of the enemy to forget dissentions, grasp the hand of fellowship, and take all means to strengthen rather than weaken the power of the government.

The remainder of the preamble in relation to constituent powers of the Assembly was adopted, and Dufoure's paragraph, eulogizing the conduct of Thiers, was carried by a vote of 532, against 34. One hundred members abstained from voting.

NOVA SCOTIA.

The Halifax Regatta.

HALIFAX, August 31.—The great boat race came off this forenoon. Six crews started. The race was splendidly contested up to the stake boat of the turning point. The Taylor-Winship English crew won by three lengths. The Prior crew were second. The Coulter-Biglin crew, of the United States, were third. The water was rough. At the start the Renforth crew shot ahead, making 42 strokes. The Tyne crew followed with 41 strokes; American 44, and Prior 40. At the third mile the Roche crew gave up. Until nearing the stake boat the two English crews were even. The Renforth here seemed to mistake flags, and the Winship crew with a desperate spurt went past and turned beautifully, distancing their rival considerably.

The next to pass was the Prior crew, followed closely by the Americans. At the fourth mile the Renforth was fourth and the Barton last. At the fifth mile the Americans made a splendid effort, and shot ahead. The Prior crew here came up and in a few minutes the boats were all even. At this point the excitement was intense. From here the Winship crew gained slowly, the Prior crew close up and the American crew slightly behind. The Winship crew made a desperate effort, and amidst the applause of the crowd, won the race.

WEST INDIES.

Hostilities in Progress.

SAN DOMINGO, August 8.—The revolutionists under Cabral have formed a provisional government, having its seat at Los Matoe.

A new and well organized attack will be made against the troops of Baez. Baez, on his side, is not idle. He continues to make great military preparations in Azua.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Nantucket, it is said, has left Panama, and is at present cruising near Azua, to co-operate by sea.

Hurricane at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS VIA HALIFAX, August 31.—Another hurricane has swept over this unfortunate island, overturning every house and laying the place in ruins. Yesterday, about 1 A. M., the gale broke from the east, shortly after, shifting to the north-east, from which point it blew fiercely until noon, when the wind veered round to the north and fell upon the island in a terrific hurricane. It then shifted to the north-west and blew with great violence until 5 P. M., when a lull came till 6 P. M., when the hurricane again swept over the island from the south, but its duration was not so long as the first visit, nor the violence so great. Its term of greatest fury lasted two hours. Closely following in the wake of the hurricane, came an awful gale from the south and south-east, which raged several hours. During the hurricane in the afternoon, several shocks of earthquake rendered more dreadful the situation of the people who were hearing overhead the crash of roofs torn by the hurricane, and obliged to feel at the same time the foundations of their shelters shaken by an earthquake. Hundreds of dwellings were swept away. There is not a house left standing undamaged on the island. Some six thousand people are houseless and destitute. Nearly 150 were killed or disabled by houses blown down or by flying bricks or tiles. Already some thirty corpses have been dragged from the ruins. No serious casualties to shipping are reported. The Island of Dominica is said to be in ruins, as it was caught first by the hurricane.

OREGON.

Races at Baker City will commence on the 25th inst., and continue four days.

A $6,000-nugget, the largest ever turned out in Baker county, has been cast by J. W. Virtue at Baker City.

Last week the Salem mills purchased eleven thousand bushels of wheat. So far this week, six thousand. The mills run sixteen hours out of twenty-four.

The ditches in Baker county are approaching completion, and the mining prospect is very flattering. Three hundred men are now at work on the "big ditch."

The United States depository at Oregon City has been discontinued by order of the Secretary of the Treasury, and the funds have been transferred to the National Bank Depository in this city.

The Albany Register has closed its third volume. The next number will be out in a new dress and in an enlarged form. Van Cleve appears to be doing well, and certainly makes a good paper.

A Yamhill poultry fancier has a hen that raises chickens on the Chicago plan. She never sets, but waits until another hen comes off the nest with a brood of chickens, then whips the mother out, and brings up the little ones until they are able to scratch for their own worms.

From the Albany Register: As it is asserted that our notice of the arrival in this city, a Sunday or two since, of the Judge of the Third Judicial District (we won't mention Andy's name), with a load of bacon and oats for the use of his race mare and her keeper, is calculated to "injure the Democratic party," we hereby withdraw it. The rumor that the Judge intends to ride the mare himself in trials of speed this month, we don't put any confidence in—it looks like a sell.

THE TERRITORIES.

Bullion shipments from Owyhee for the month of August foot up to $100,000.

William Hammond of Seattle has been appointed Inspector of Hulls for Puget Sound District.

Horse thieves have been doing actively business in the Owyhee country. They escaped with their booty.

The streams of Idaho are unusually low. Boise river is one foot below the lowest water of last year, and still falling.

Petitions are in circulation all over Washington Territory, to be presented to the Legislature this Fall, praying for such a modification of the laws as will make it easier to obtain a license to vend spirituous liquors.

CURRENT NOTES.

A few days ago at San Francisco, Samuel Brannan deeded to Peter Donohue the property on Montgomery street known as the Treasury building, and that adjoining, known as the Masonic building, for a consideration of $175,000.

Complaints are made in San Francisco of the great increase of taxes. Official figures show that the city has paid in gold for taxes, in the last ten years, $103,881,486, which was $80,000,000 more than it paid in the previous ten years.

A Georgia man was murdered recently because he refused to pay a debt contracted by his wife's first husband. The crime was committed by his wife's son by that husband, and as soon as it was done, she gave the murder what money she had and he fled. It is supposed she will be arrested as accessory to the murder.

North Carolina papers report that the man whose son was the first rebel soldier killed in the war is an inmate of the almshouse in that State, but, "although he has lost his health, property and friends, his spirit is unbroken, and on election day he went to the polls and voted for the Convention."

One of the active ones in the women's suffrage movement in San Francisco has sent to the County Clerk a dashing protest, of which this is a copy: "I am a tax payer. Taxation without representation is ——Tyranny. I am taxed to support this Government, am made amenable to its laws, yet denied a voice in the framing of those laws—which is——Injustice."

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Democratic and Labor Reformers of New Hampshire are quarreling again about the division of the offices. Since the adjournment of the Legislature, Gov. Weston has overlooked the Labor Reformers in the local appointments.

All the appointments of the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio have been withdrawn. In other words he has soured on the hands of his party, who are glad to get rid of him. The present campaign is purely a question of how large a majority the Republicans shall obtain.

The San Francisco Bulletin is less confident of the result of the election in California than the Sacramento Union. It says the leaders of both parties are working like beavers, and while the Republicans are more aggressive than their opponents, it will be a closely contested election.

Newton Booth said in a recent speech that if he is elected Governor of California, he shall regard it as a contract with the people, in which his faith is pledged to serve for the full term, and that nothing shall tempt him to accept the United States Senatorship or any other office, if offered him.

It is proposed to erect a statue to Dante in the Central Park at New York. The image will be chiseled by Vienne Hoam in the lobby of the Capitol at Washington, and when it is up in the Park the following bill will be presented and paid out of the City Treasury:

"City of New York to Wm. M. Tweed, Peter B. Sweeny & Co.,

To Drayage on Dusty	$ 5,000
" Unboxing of Him	10,000
" Setting of Him Up	25,000
" Scouring of Him	30,000
" Putty for His Bruise House	45,000
Total	$500,000

I certify that the above account is correct.
OAKEY HALL, Mayor."

The Park Question Again.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR:—The "Park question" is exciting a great deal of interest among our citizens. I am glad to see the opposition to the purchase of the Park blocks show their hand in your paper of to-day. If you receive a gentle reproof for the noble stand you have taken in behalf of the masses, in this matter, you will not complain. When editors cease to be independent, cease to express their convictions on questions of great public interest, they are no longer worthy of their position. They will evidently, in that case, have no confidence in themselves, nor will the public have any in them. We have no fears that you will be derelict to the interest of the great masses of our people, present or to come.

I gather from the article in your paper, signed "Caution," that he is opposed to the purchase of the Park blocks for certain reasons—1st, that the purchase will entail a debt on the city of one hundred and ten thousand dollars; 2d, that it will be a pecuniary benefit to the property holders on two sides of the Park Avenue; and 3d, that the city now own a Park in the western part of the city, which can be improved by the expenditure of $110,000; and by improvements of streets, and street cars, and public and private carriages, can be reached by our people in a few minutes time from any part of the city.

We suppose that these three points embrace the objections against the purchase and improvement of the Park streets and the Park blocks. No opposition is expressed to the assumed benefits our people and our city would derive from the improvements proposed, and, as we understand, because no such reasons for opposition would be considered worth a thought by the veriest tyro.

We then have first to consider the character of the proposed debt. Every good citizen will be anxious to keep the city as free from debt as possible consistent with its interests and the welfare of the people. But there are improvements in cities which justify the incurring of debt, which debt will increase the true wealth of the city ten, twenty times the original cost. When debts are created for the improvement of a rapidly growing city—the money honestly and properly expended—they are justified, they are required—the tax payers now and hereafter will not complain of them.

There was a time when the writer of the communication in the OREGONIAN, now under notice, had no aversion to a city debt. It was when the mountain Park was purchased without discussion by our citizens—hurriedly and with the knowledge of, only a few, and which confessedly cannot be improved so as to answer any valuable purpose without an expenditure of one hundred and ten thousand dollars. And we believe this estimate of the cost of the improvements required is not a high one. So much for "Caution's" hostility to a city debt.

"Caution" opposes the Park improvements because such improvements will result in the benefit of persons holding property on the Park streets. It is but fair to say that when the individuals purchased this property they believed, as nearly all our citizens believed, the Park would remain open in all future time—as was the original design. And another fact may be stated, that owners of this property, considering the present difficulties in relation to the proprietorship of the Park blocks, have manifested a willingness to assist the city by pecuniary means to open the Park streets and blocks as a great public avenue. Their interests would impel this act.

But have we nothing to say of the character and objects of the opposition to the park improvement, as we infer them, from the remarks of "Caution?" We have. A debt was created against the city, as we believe, without a just regard to its interests or of its people, in the purchase of thirty-two acres of land west of the city, on or near the mountain—not required—not needed by the present wants of the city for a public park, and cannot be used by our people for that purpose without a vast expenditure, and then not practically, for years. We are told these grounds can be reached from distant parts of our city in street cars, private and public carriages as if our people were so obtuse as not to understand the character of the assertions. Nineteen-twentieths of our people belong to the industrial occupations. They have no time to make these distant trips for pleasure and the profit of street cars and public carriages. There are only two classes which can enjoy a distant mountain park. One of them is those who may own palatial residences in its neighborhood or property on which they design to erect them, or those who wish to advance the value of their property, and the other class, those extreme who have wealth, leisure, grand carriages, who can visit the mountain at their pleasure. And such can have parks of their own—walks, trees, flowers—but it is for the laboring classes that cities should provide grounds, for fresh air and pleasant resorts such as can be readily reached, if required after the labors of the day.

I intended to say something of the "pecuniary" objection to improving the park. Hundreds of people own small lots on the park streets; and these men belong generally to the laboring masses of the people. Near the mountain park block, large plats are surveyed and sold for large suburban residences. In the one case, the benefits would fall to the people—in the other, to the precious few.

A few words more and I close. We warn those who oppose the park improvements that those portions of the city which will soon become, if they are not now, crowded and sweltering localities, must receive some of the blessings which money can give; or disease, moral and physical, will run riot,—and more than this, that the people who find their wants persistently ignored, while the fancies of another and more fortunate class are gratified as soon, or before they are uttered, will rise up and make their votes and power felt in the only way left them—at the polls.

PORTLAND, Sept. 1, 1871.

A GOOD HIT.—In "ye olden tymes" the meeting house was filled with two galleries, one for each sex. A minister at Newbury was interrupted one Sunday by talking. He stopped short in his discourse, and remarked that he wished that talking would cease in the galleries, directing his eyes at the same time to the women's side—whereupon a venerable spinster arose and said that it was not in their gallery, but on the men's side. "I'm glad of it, then," replied the parson, "for then it will be likely to stop the sooner."

Near Albany a few days ago a train ran over and killed a cow. Five cars were thrown from the track, but no great damage done.

Doings Strictly "Democratic."

The press of the country continues to discuss the phases of politics presented in New York, including the frauds recently discovered, and Tammany's general tactics, agreeing that these are the most important political topics of the time. The Democratic culprits make but a very lame defense, for the reason that no better defense is possible. It makes a rogue very mad to get caught at his tricks, and Mayor Hall of New York City shows by his conduct that he "knows how it is himself." Members of various Citizens' Associations in New York having sent communications to the Mayor asking information in regard to city accounts, and requesting him to acquit himself of the charges against him or resign, he responds in a lofty indignant tone, returning the communication "as one which no gentleman could receive or should have signed, and because it is incorrect and untrue in many particulars, and because of its general insulting tone."

But this device failed to vindicate him. John Foley, President of the Citizens' Clubs, who propose to prosecute the Tammany thieves, has responded to Hall's letter in a way that is at once crushing and unanswerable. After citing statutes and giving a full history of the administration of affairs in the city, completely cutting all the ground away on which the Mayor based his defense, Mr. Foley asserts triumphantly that the responsibility for the immense fraudulent payments complained of does rest exclusively with the present rulers of the city, and can be shuffled off upon no "Old Board," or other set of men whatever.

Again, he illustrates the fraudulent nature of these transactions by showing from the statutes that the city authorities were especially prohibited from auditing and paying any claims for the objects for which these immense sums were squandered, beyond the amount appropriated expressly by the Legislature for the purpose. But Hall and his associates, after the appropriation was exhausted, went on paying the fraudulent claims, issuing the bonds of the city as a means to raise the money, and thereby in violation of law adding between six and seven millions of dollars to the debt of the city. The President of the Citizens Associations tells the Mayor that steps will be taken at once to prevent the payment of these fraudulent bonds. He tells the Mayor that he allowed the claims and paid them in violation of law; and now, said he, "You turn round and attempt to throw off the responsibility, and place it upon a Board composed half of Republicans and half of Democrats. But, Sir, this will not do. It is not a matter of politics, but of honesty and fair dealing; and the sooner this is realized by you the better. It must be admitted—and I, a life-long Democrat, do admit it—that not even a nominal Republican had anything to do with the passing and paying of the $6,312,541 37 of fraudulent claims paid in 1870."

These are some of the transactions which the Oregon Herald undertakes to defend!

A Southern Demand.

People who have an eye to the possibilities of the future have long been anticipating the time when the late slaveholders of the South would demand payment for their "chattels" freed by the war. It has been announced from time to time that in most of the late slave States full lists of the slaves set free by the proclamation of emancipation and the thirteenth amendment were being prepared, to be held in readiness for the favorable moment. The Richmond Whig of recent date thus gives notice of the hopes and intentions of the late slave masters:

> The Southern States, under any fair apportionment that may be adopted, will have twelve more than a third of the representatives in Congress and the Electoral College. United and harmonious this would constitute a power adequate for self-protection, if not sufficient to control the action of the Government. Slavery has been abolished. But Slavery has never been paid for. It was a constitutional and vested right if there be such a thing. No Government ever confiscated such a property and of such magnitude without compensation to the individual. It would be monstrous if it did; and it would unsettle and confound and jeopard all other rights. The blacks can be made to have the same interest in this right as the whites. The market value of the property at the outbreak of the war was estimated at $3,000,000,000. The half of that sum might redress the whites, the other half would console the blacks, and prove a far more substantial blessing than the imaginary mule and forty acres of land."

This promising scheme is further elaborated in this style:

> We have no idea of pressing this reclamation at the present time. But it is a shot in our locker, which we are unwilling to surrender, and would be ready to use whenever opportunity presents itself. A Southern Conference, either the coming winter or at some future time, can arrange the programme, the mode, measure, and time for urging this claim. We would not hurry it—it is a permanent bulwark and source of safety and harmony to all the distracted elements of Southern society. It is only a question of time—and though we are all, white and black, very poor, we are not impatient.

Of course this precious scheme is held in abeyance in hope that the Democratic party will become masters of the political situation; and it may be relied on that in case that party again obtains power in the land, a serious attempt will be made to fasten this claim on the country. True, the fourteenth amendment forbids it, but the mass of that party still hold the amendments invalid, and there is every reason to believe that they would ride over them if they had opportunity and power.

The policy of Great Britain in purchasing and bringing under Government patronage the telegraph lines of the country, though at first severely criticised, seems to be proving a success. The experience of the past year's working of the system, under the control of the Post-office Department, has been highly satisfactory. The Government paid for the telegraph lines of the United Kingdom the sum of $37,500,000, which they borrowed at three and one-quarter per cent., and on which the annual interest is therefore $2,218,750. The gross earnings for the year, at a uniform internal rate of twelve cents for a message of twenty words, have been $3,992,000, or nearly ten per cent. on the purchase price. Deducting from this the working expenses, $2,350,000 (rather less than five and one-half per cent.) and the annual interest above quoted, and there remains for the past year a net profit to the State of $108,450. With a business said to be rapidly increasing and without any corresponding increase of the working expenses, the telegraphs bid fair to become a permanent and appreciable source of income to the British Treasury.

The aspects of the California canvass seem hardly so favorable for the Republicans as they did two weeks ago. This is attributable mainly to Gorham's presence and intermeddling. He is heartily detested and injures any cause he professes to support. Still, we think, the chances are good for a Republican victory.

The Origin of Chinese Immigration.

California Republicans are raking over the Democratic record on the subject of Chinese immigration. They find this state of facts, viz:

The Democrats made the first treaty with China under Polk's Administration and renewed it under Buchanan's, guaranteeing Chinese in the country all rights and privileges.

In 1858 a Democratic Legislature in California adopted a memorial urging upon Congress to "foster free intercourse" between China and California.

In 1858, a treaty was negotiated with China by President Buchanan and ratified by a Democratic Senate, which, up to a very recent date controlled all our relations with China. Under this and the preceding treaty five-sixths of all the Chinese in this country came over.

In 1853, Gov. Bigler of California, sent a message to the Legislature, of that State in which he opposed the proposition to restrict intercourse with China, saying:

> A proposition to restrict international intercourse or to check the immigration of Asiatics would appear to conflict with the long cherished benevolent policy of our Government. That Government has opened its paternal arms to the oppressed of all nations.

It is an indisputable fact that before the Republicans had obtained control either of the General Government or of the State governments of Oregon and California the bulk of the present Chinese population had already reached those shores, attracted by inducements offered by our Democratic party.

Comfort on Both Sides.

The New Northwest is of opinion that we should retract or apologize for an article which appeared in the OREGONIAN some days ago relative to Mrs. Stanton. And the New Northwest is sharp and peremptory about it, too. It says:

> We have waited patiently for a week or more to see if the "gross misinformation" that appeared in the OREGONIAN concerning the reputation of Elizabeth Cady Stanton would "annoy" him just a "little," but, as Mrs. Stanton is not yet a voter, this obtuse politician does not think it worth while to treat her with simple decency.
>
> We have carefully read over the article alluded to (which appeared in the OREGONIAN during our temporary absence from duty), and see nothing in it that, in "simple decency," demands an apology. Mrs. Stanton spoke about Mrs. Fair as an abused and injured woman, "looked into her blue eyes" and was satisfied that "she was not the bold, bad woman she had been represented." This expression was spoken of by the OREGONIAN as discreditable to Mrs. Stanton, and the opinion was given that no woman claiming respectability ought to utter such sentiments. The omission to apologize for this, it appears, is the extent of our offending. We fear the Northwest has not rightly considered the matter. Perhaps it will be demanded how we know that Mrs. Stanton ever spoke in such a way about Mrs. Fair. We know it only from the same source that we know anything about either of them, viz: the newspapers.

Our critic closes with a little bit of sarcasm. We quote:

> Well, well; the [Mrs. Stanton] will have the appointive power one of these days, and we'll see somebody seated from the Portland Custom House. That's some comfort.
> Well, well, good sister, long ere that time your humble servant will have ceased to have any interest in Custom Houses or other sublunary things; therefore he is of opinion that he can defy the utmost spite of the aforesaid appointing power. That's some comfort!

At last the controversy with Mormonism has been brought into a practical shape. The first wife of a Mormon having no faith in the peculiar institution of Utah, preferred a charge of adultery against her husband for marrying and living with another woman as his wife after his marriage with her. The complaint was made before the United States Court, and the accused was held to bail in the sum of $5,000 to answer the indictment that should be found against him by the Grand Jury. As this is the first case of the kind ever brought up in Utah, it has created intense excitement among the Saints.

The Scientific Value of Cheese Factories.

Nature, a London journal, says that the American system of cheese factories was established nearly twenty years ago, and in its present condition of maturity it retains all the essential features which were characteristic of its infancy. The test of twenty years' experience in a country where apparent improvements are eagerly submitted to a fair trial is amply sufficient to prove the success of the system. Recently the question of its adaptability to English dairy districts has acquired considerable prominence in agricultural circles, and is now passing from the stage of discussion to that of experiment. The two great merits which are claimed for it are economy in the labor of production and superiority of quality in the produce. It is evident that if a dozen farmers convey their milk to one building (a factory) to be made into cheese or butter, fewer hands are required to perform the work than if the process were carried on at a dozen different places by as many sets of people. The factory can be furnished with better labor saving machinery than the farm dairy, and the former establishment requires no more supervision than the latter. The process of cheese-making, also, occupies practically the same length of time, whether the quantity of milk under treatment be large or small, so that two or three persons whose energies are concentrated at one place will produce as great an economic result as a dozen or more who are necessarily employed at as many different points, each one going through the same routine independently of each other.

> The superiority in the quality of the manufactured article may be more difficult of explanation, for the best farm-dairies produce as good cheese as any factory. The reason why the establishment of factories has improved the average make of cheese is because fewer first-rate cheese makers are required under the factory system. But, when Mr. Jesse Williams established the first factory, twenty years ago, the great bulk of American cheese was extremely poor, and for many years after it was almost unsalable in the English market. At the present day, on the contrary, it can compete on even terms with all but the very choicest English makes, notwithstanding the fact that it has to undergo the ordeal of a long sea voyage. The factory system, therefore, has not only improved the average quality of American cheese, but it has very considerably raised the standard of the choicest brands.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Flour at Cariboo has risen to fifteen dollars a barrel.

Preparations for a thorough coast survey of British Columbia are in progress.

Victoria has contributed in all the sum of $1,600 75 to the French relief fund.

During the quarter ending June 25th, 3,083 barrels of flour were imported into Victoria.

Next year the Dominion government will erect large and handsome buildings at Victoria for customs and postoffice purposes.

SECRET OF HAPPINESS.—A philosopher says that the true secret of earthly happiness is to enjoy pleasures as they arise; for that man who can keep his eye upon the bright present, while it is bright, tastes the cup of sweetness prepared for him; but we are prone to look forward to their objects while we should be enjoying those that are more agreeable.

KEEP UP APPEARANCES.—The following closely practical sermon on an improved maxim, is copied from the Maine Farmer, in which it appeared some thirty-five years ago. The author of it is still living, and says he found no reason to change his conviction:

> "If a man be poor, let him keep the knowledge of the fact to himself. Let the secret out, and ten to one his friends will forsake him and even throw barriers in his path. Better wear your best coat, and carry a bold and independent front, than to stoop to the earth, beg for employment and whine over your distresses. Human nature is such that mankind will assist the rich, and throw opportunities in their way to make money, while they exclude the poor from every privilege. Let it be known that your property is all gone, and every bill will be presented and an immediate settlement insisted upon; when, if you are considered wealthy, your creditors would wait a twelvemonth for their dues, and then press the payment very lightly. Therefore, resolve never to make known your poverty, but keep up good spirits, and you will see your way clear to a comfortable living."

Since last spring I have been taking your "Oak Wood Remedy," and find myself much improved. The swelling and pain has left my joints and shoulder and the BONY GROWTH HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED and I use my limbs and am far better than I have been for years.

CONNECTION.—The item has been published the city papers that a Chinaman was re injured on Thursday by the falling of a bri from the Masonic Temple. We are requested by the contractor of that building to make this state ment: The Chinaman was severely hurt by having received a severe blow on the head from some missile; but instead of falling, it was thrown by some bad boy. The occurrance took place some distance below the building. The police have been endeavoring to find out the little vil creant who perpetrated the offense, but without success so far. This statement is made to coun teract the impression that there existed culpable neglect on the part of the builders.

GAUNTLET TAKEN UP.—Prof. L. L. Rogers, the Willamette University, has written a letter to the P. C. Advocate, in which he accepts the challenge extended by Mr. Underwood, the noted "Free Thought" lecturer, of Boston, to discuss the leading questions at issue between Christians and Infidels. The writes says: "I wish to say that if the friends of Christianity, to any locality where Mr. Underwood may lecture, desire lectures upon the evidences of Christianity, I will hold myself in readiness to serve them, and the Truth as best I can, and that I will alternate with him in giving lectures at any prominent point which may be designated."

CHICKEN THIEF.—An old Celestial was arraigned before Judge Deady yesterday morning on a charge of chicken stealing. He was discovered on Thursday night about 11 o'clock, making about in the back yard of Sheriff Bills. Officer Sheenan went for the heathen Chinee. Johe, when he saw the officer, gave up the chicken enterprise, and fell to picking up some apples which had fallen on the ground. He asserted his purity of motives to the last, and said that he only stepped in to pick up the fallen fruit. Judge Deady sent him to jail for three days to teach the Celestial a lesson that to be plain headstealing was no good to Chinese reputation.

This spring is situated near the bank of the river, about one mile and a half from East Portland. The spring is a large one, the water flowing from it at the rate of about 50 gallons per minute. The water is quite palatable to drink, and is very pure and cold, and so clear that a pin can be seen plainly on the bottom of the spring, a distance of five feet. A Nimrod Returned.—Chas. W. Parrish, of diminutive stature and of the "small still voice" (!) notoriety, and as for that matter County Clerk of this county, has reached his home again. Chas. has been absent from his post for over two weeks. He has been reveling to the eyes in all the glories of the chase and the fireside feast. In company with several hunters, all renowned Nimrods, like himself, he secured the whole coast range mountains west of Grand Ronde for two mortal weeks. He reports a splendid time. The party killed six deer and a young cub. He states that one deer, as himself and one of his companions were engaged in the innocent amusement of fishing trout, they came near being literally "clawed up" by a monstrous cinnamon bear. Chas. says that he can never forgive the impudence of that "bar," or himself for not having a shooting iron.

Correction.—The item has been published in the city papers that a Chinaman was severely injured on Thursday by the falling of a brick from the Masonic Temple. We are requested by the contractor of that building to make this statement: The Chinaman was severely hurt by having received a severe blow on the head from some missile; but instead of falling, it was thrown by some bad boy. The occurrence took place some distance below the building. The police have been endeavoring to find out the little miscreant who perpetrated the offence, but without success so far. This statement is made to counteract the impression that there existed culpable neglect on the part of the builders.

Gauntlet Taken Up.—Prof. L. L. Rogers, of the Willamette University, has written a letter to the P. C. Advocate, in which he accepts the challenge extended by Mr. Underwood, the noted "Free Thought" lecturer, of Boston, to discuss the leading questions at issue between Christians and Infidels. The writes says: "I wish to say that if the friends of Christianity, in any locality where Mr. Underwood may lecture, desire lectures upon the evidences of Christianity, I will hold myself in readiness to serve them, and the Truth as best I can; and think I will alternate with him in giving lectures at any prominent point which may be designated."

Chicken Thief.—An old Celestial was arraigned before Judge Denny yesterday morning on a charge of chicken stealing. He was discovered on Thursday night about 11 o'clock, sneaking about in the back yard of Sheriff Bills. Officer Sheenan "went for the heathen Chinee." John, when he saw the officer after him, gave up the chicken enterprise, and fell to picking up some apples which had fallen on the ground. He asserted his purity of motives to the last, and said that he only stepped in to pick up the fallen fruit. Judge Denny sent him to jail for three days to inculcate a lesson that to keep late hours was no good to Chinese reputation.

Brought to his Senses.—In a case of assault and battery tried in the Police Court yesterday, Judge Denny called a witness, who seemed very reluctant to impart the knowledge he had relative to the affair. After swearing him, the Judge told him to proceed, and "tell the whole story." To this, the fellow gave some insolent reply, and asked what he wanted him to testify to. "I'll soon show you," replied the Judge, warmly, "what I want. If you don't tell all you know at once, I'll send you to jail for twenty days," motioning to the police officer at the same time. That fellow's memory was refreshed amazingly.

S. S. Concert.—The Sunday School concert of the Taylor street church, will be held in the basement to-morrow. The exercises will commence at 2 o'clock, P. M. The following is the programme prepared for the occasion: Singing by the School; Prayer; Opening Address, "Sunday School Concerts," J. F. Caples; Singing; Reading, "Infant Class Teaching," Mrs. Church; Singing; Recitation, "Open the Door," Emma Sutherland; Singing, Colloquy, "Welcome," by a Class; Address, by Rev. Mr. Iser; Benediction.

Harrison Street School House.—This public edifice has been recently enlarged and its capacity for the accommodation of pupils fully doubled by the erection of an addition of uniform style with the main building. The improvements cost in the aggregate five thousand dollars, and the whole structure having been newly painted and otherwise improved, makes it one of the largest and most imposing public school houses in the country.

Another Vessel.—Mr. S. L. Brooks, of the Dalles, who has just returned from San Francisco, informs us that while there he had a conversation with Messrs. Hotchinson, Kohl & Co., of the opposition line. Mr. Hotchinson stated to him that the company had completed negotiations for a steamer at New York; and as soon as the vessel could be brought out that she would be placed on the line to run in connection with the steamer Constantine.

German Sabbath School Concert.—To-morrow, at 2 o'clock P. M., there will be a German Sabbath School Concert in the Lutheran Church, corner of Fifth and Taylor streets. Parents and friends who are interested in this enterprise are friendly invited. Also, in the same Church, divine services, in the German language, by Rev. H. Gaus, at 11 o'clock A. M. and 8 o'clock P. M.

Bridge at Oregon City.—The Enterprise says that articles of incorporation were filed in the County Clerk's office this week by John L. Barlow, W. H. Pope and F. O. McCown, as corporators, whose object is to construct a suspension bridge across the Willamette river at some point between Fourth and Seventh streets.

Another "Rush."—Since the subsidence of the river in the "rural districts," of Kalama, a fine spring of cold, delicious water has burst out in the town. Who smote the rock?

New Council Chamber.—The new Council Chamber which was submerged with water some time ago, has been replastered and will soon be ready for the City Fathers.

Postponed.—The opening of the Public schools of the city are postponed until Monday, the 11th inst., on account of the unfinished state of the school buildings.

Dedication.—The new Baptist Church of Oregon City will be dedicated to-morrow. The dedicatory sermon will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Fisher, of the Dalles.

Stopped.—Until after the announced meeting of the stockholders of the P. T. Co., on the 5th inst., no boats will run to Salem. So states the Statesman.

Church Notice.—Dr. A. L. Lindsley will officiate at the First Presbyterian Church, both morning and evening, at the usual hours.

Two Bands.—The 23d Infantry band and East Portland Cornet band have been engaged to discourse music at the Firemen's Parade.

Mexican Veterans.—There will be a special meeting of this organization at the County Court Room this evening.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

[From the Advocate.]

The following is the attendance at the Taylor Street M. E. Church during the past month: Average, whole school, 249; Average, officers and teachers, 30; Average, infant class, 43; Aggregate, three Sabbaths, 743.

All the trees around the new M. E. Church at Kalama are cut down, in order to make the property safer against ravages by fire. The building is insured in $800.

The proceeds of the Methodist Concert, held in East Portland last Sunday evening, were $25. Mrs. Carrie F. Young and Mrs. A. J. Dennaway were present, the former of whom delivered a very pleasing address to the children.

Rev. T. F. Royal preached a very able discourse last Sunday evening in this Church. A deep religious feeling pervaded the whole congregation.

Rev. H. F. Williams will administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock.

We learn from our Dalles correspondent that Hon. J. P. Caples, of this city, delivered very interesting addresses before the Congregational and Methodist Sunday Schools at the Dalles, on last Sabbath.

The raising of the steeple of the new Lutheran Church, on land donated to the Society by Dr. Loryea and J. B. Stephens, took place on Monday last.

Rev. Mr. Fredriksen will preach in his parsonage, near the church now in course of erection in East Portland, on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, in the Norwegian language.

Under the superintendence of Major Roberts and Captain Kellogg, the new dredger lowered the bar at the mouth of the Yamhill river one foot in two hours and a half, one day during the week.

PERSONAL.

Capt. Crandall, the local editor of this paper, returned from the Sound on the Queen Pelfair. In company with D. C. Ireland, of the Bulletin staff, the Captain has been "doing up" the Sound country for the last three weeks. He returns in a fine state of preservation, the natural result of digging clams, breathing sea air, and feasting continuously on a fresh, fish and fowl diet. We are happy to inform our readers that his pen has lost none of its vigor and wit, and that he will resume duties at once.

Capt. Chas. Holman, long of the firm of Harris & Holman, returned to this city on the Idaho. Mr. Holman has been on a European tour, and has brought back a bride with him.

Distinguished Advocate of Woman Suffrage.—Miss Susan B. Anthony arrived in this city per steamer Idaho, and is at present stopping at the St. Charles Hotel. She is an elderly maiden lady, quite different in appearance from the vinegar-faced virago whom we had been led to look for from the representations of the San Francisco press. Miss Anthony will lecture at the Oro Fino Hall on Wednesday evening, September 6th. Let us not send away our distinguished visitor with the poor opinion of Oregon and the intelligence of her people, which California labored so hard to impress upon her. Let her have the large audience which her reputation deserves, and when she leaves our State, let it not be the fault of our people if she fails to compliment our hospitality.

Hon. S. Ellsworth, of Eugene City, is in this city. He came to attend the Convocation of the Episcopal Church, now in session here.

B. F. Underwood.—This noted champion of Free Thought lectured at Oregon City last evening.

EAST PORTLAND.

[From the Democratic Era.]

We are informed that this month has been the liveliest one of the season: Fifty tons of freight are received by rail daily, besides innumerable tons of general freight.

We some time since called the attention of those concerned, to the fact that their licenses were due for the quarter ending Oct. 31st. If the delinquents fail soon to liquidate, they will be called upon by the City Marshal and commenced extra cost.

Saturday a pile of slabs under the railroad track, about forty rods east of the J street crossing, caught fire from a spark from one of the engines, and but for its seasonable discovery must have resulted in serious damage to the track and trestle work of the road. Mr. Lane, City Marshal, was the first to discover the fire, and with much exertion succeeded in extinguishing it before any damage was done.

AMUSEMENTS.

Prof. Chaney's Lecture.—Prof. Chaney delivered a lecture last evening at Oro Fino Theater to a large audience. His subject was Astronomy, Mythology and the Bible. The Prof. seems to be learned deeply in a quaint and mythical lore that few people know anything about. His lecture has the virtue of being totally unlike any lecture ever delivered to this public before. It is free, and everyone should attend from curiosity, if not to learn something new. He will lecture again to-night; also twice to-morrow.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

To the Ladies.—Mr. T. Rodgers, on First street, between Morrison and Yamhill, in his advertisement this morning, calls attention to the new stock of ladies' boots and shoes of all kinds, which he has just brought from San Francisco. He tells you his style of doing business, and we know he lives up to it, and he only asks a call to satisfy you and secure your custom. Call on him.

Must be Closed Out.—The bankrupt sale at Armory Hall continues. Messrs. Nokes & Lattimer announce that the stock will be sold without reserve. Call and see the elegant goods offered.

Oysters.—Allsky & Hegele are receiving supplies of oysters from Shoalwater Bay daily. The public can be furnished with any quantity.

Schaeren & Brown of Vancouver are offering desirable Town Lots in that place for $65, for a few days only.

Sailing of the John L. Stephens.—The C. N. P. T. Co's steamship John L. Stephens, sailed from San Francisco yesterday for this port with the following passengers: Hon S J Field, Gen Roberts, Gen Sargent, Gen Grier and daughter, M Hess, M Bressehevott, Mr Darlax, Mr Greenburg, W Hoch, C J Lowerey, G M Marshall, Rev J McCarty, R H Rutherford and 3 children, E B Harrington, C H Olm, H J Dawes, Miss Lotty, Miss C Starr, L Farnold and wife, Rev N Karagan, N Metropolky, D Breilcantell, J Wiley, W Spangle and family, G W Spangle and family, W Shiskin and family, Mrs E Eastbrook and 6 children, C J Nickerson, M Flagg, J Luster, wife and 6 children, Miss R Blaiber, Mrs W W Nourse, Miss Vuesober Decker, Mrs Whitcomb & children, J A Caret, J Fordham, Mrs Rilkington and 2 children, C Hulder, W Stephenson, A Sherman, H H Jackson, J Moaliser, Miss E McCarty, Mrs J S Maxley, Mrs J Ward and child, M Hoffman, P Loyor, J Abraham, O Eaton, wife and 5 children, W G Doane, A J Woods, Mrs M Campbell, Miss Kirk, N H Hochguetel, J C Campbell, J Crittenden, Madame Labite and 3 children, Jane Lory, wife and child, Mrs T J Corneen, Johnson and wife, Mrs M Wolf and child, T E Edbrooke, T J Giel, S P Castello and wife, Miss Eva Clayton, H Williams and child.

Wilted Down.

Ask the man who complains of "wilting down" in torrid weather what he has done to sustain his system under the extra strain imposed on his vitality. He may tell you that he has tried a variety of cathartics to purify his blood and brighten his spirits. Under such treatment, of course, his strength has given way, and his energies have become exhausted. What he requires is a restorative, not a depletant. His blood is thin; his nerves have lost their natural tension, and nature demands to be renovated and reinforced. The means is within the reach of all. For nearly a score of years, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have been building up broken constitutions, strengthening attenuated frames, and affording comfort, ease, and hope to thousands. As a preventive of the epidemics which make such havoc with the health of the inhabitants of new settlements, this famous tonic is certainly without a rival. Perhaps the principal portion of its world-wide fame is attributable to its astonishing cures of dyspepsia, and all forms of indigestion. But these are not a moiety of its triumphs. All the types of biliousness yield to its persistent use. It is a regulating medicine of the highest order; and its effect upon the secretions, when irregular, are most salutary.

Imposition of the grossest character is sought to be practiced upon the community by vendors, who recommend under the name of "bitters," fiery compounds of a dangerous character, which they attempt to substitute for the great national tonic. Shun all such nostrums, and see that you have the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, properly authenticated by label, name and stamp, and sold in bottles only.

Biography Boiled Down.

Plutarch—I only know of this gentleman by reputation. He is always spoken of in the plural number. "Plutarch's Lives" is a common expression, but how many there were of him I am not prepared to say.

General Duke of Wellington—An officer of the British army. Mr. Longfellow makes honorable mention of him as the "Warden of the Cinque Ports." Cinque means five, and he was the protector of five principal points, usually denominated Five Points. He lived to a ripe old age and died.

Julius Cæsar—Son of old man Cæsar. He was born at Rome in his infancy, and upon arriving at the state of manhood became a Roman. He was a fighter, and a warrior of some note. His friend Brutus one morning asked him how many eggs he had eaten for breakfast, and he replied "Et tu Brute!" His friend became enraged at being called a brute, and stabbed Cæsar quite dead.

Mahomet—Author of the Koran, an exciting romance, which he wrote in the Mammoth Cave at Mecca. He was the author of a religious creed, with which he stuffed Turkey, and tried to get up a broil in in Greece, but failed. Many of his early followers suffered great persecutions. Some of them were burnt at the stake. He had three temples—one at Mecca and one on each side of his head.

Guy Fawkes—A warm-hearted, impulsive Englishman, who believed the Parliament too good for this earth, and devised an expeditious method of elevating the members to a better sphere. He was interrupted in his good intentions, but for which circumstance he would, doubtless, have made a great noise in the world. He was executed for his disinterested benevolence, and was subsequently burnt in a place called Effigy.

Bonaparte 1—A harem-scarem sort of a fellow, who occupied a position of considerable responsibility in the French nation. The impression went abroad that he was ambitious, which damaged his reputation materially. He gained the respect and admiration of the French nation because, happily, he was not a Frenchman. When asked if he thought he could govern France, he replied, "Of Corsica!" The close of his life was not as bright as its beginning, but there was some of it in a narrow compass.

Peter the Hermit—Peter was principally noticeable for carrying up a little difficulty between the Christians and the Mohammedans, which extended over a period of thirty years, resulting in numerous excursions by land and water, under the fascinating title of the Crusades. The Hermit was itinerant lecturer, and had he lived in our day would have turned his attention to humor, thereby saving a deal of bloodshed. The Crusades turned out like the author of the creed they were intended to annihilate—a false prophet.
—The Past Contributor.

A TOUCHING TALE OF FASHIONABLE LOVE MAKING.—Nellie A. and Gertie B., two of the most beautiful girls of the year, fixed their hopes on Henry D., a grand parti from New York. Both girls are stylish, handsome and rich, and the favored swain was only hesitating in the words of the old song:

"How happy could I be with either,
Were t'other dear charmer away."

Both are girls of the period and to that must be charged the story I am to tell.

One afternoon Miss Nellie and the young gentleman walked through the park after an extended stroll, during which much love making went on, and while passing through the halls of the Grand Union the lady suddenly tottered and fell fainting into the arms of her attendant. It was a bold stroke, and victory for a moment seemed fastened there. Gertie soon heard of this, and her fertile mind grew tired with scheming. At last a smile grew upon her face. She owns the nicest pony phaeton in Saratoga, and the next day she invited the gentleman to ride. He accepted and met his fate. The well-trained horse was quietly going on his way, when suddenly the wheel came off, and the pretty Gertie lay thrown on the hard road. The terrified Henry lifted her in his arms and bore her to a convenient residence. For two days she refused to recover from the shock. On the third day the remorseful Henry, who was constantly with her, could stand it no longer. He surrendered; she recovered and soon there is to be a wedding in high life. Now comes the touch of nature. Miss Lizzie forgot her loss in admiration of the grand coup d'etat and has already congratulated her arrival upon her brilliant victory.—Jenkins' New York Letter to the N. Y. Times.

DEPEND UPON YOURSELF.—This is written for you, young man. Don't depend upon your father's money or position, but make both for yourself. Dr. Frank'in said a good kick out of doors is better than all the rich uncles in the world, and a young man left to his own exertions is driven out to stem the tide of fortune, will rise to an eminence to which affluence and luxury cannot elevate him.

Steamer Idaho arrived this morning, from San Francisco. She brought a full cargo of assorted merchandise. She sails Sunday, at 5 o'clock A. M., on her return trip to San Francisco.
The steamer Oneida Telfair sails for Gray's Harbor on Thursday.
The steamer John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, is due Monday evening. The steamer Constantine is due on Tuesday.
Harvesting throughout the State is very general. In many instances the yield is greater than estimated, and in others it is fully up to the estimate. The aggregate surplus yield of wheat is not estimated by any at less than 900,000 to 1,000,000 centals, and some even estimate higher. If we add the estimated increase of shipments to this part east of the mountains, we will have added to the above at least 60,000 centals, and if the farmers are able to ship all their surplus at least 90,000 centals more, a total of 150,000 centals. In many localities in the Willamette valley we hear of complaints about foul wheat, but we have as yet been unable to see any that is foul; but on the contrary all samples shown were superior to the average of the choice wheat in California. But still our information in regard to wheat being foul in some localities comes from such sources that we are constrained to place implicit confidence in it. The rapidity with which the Oregon and California Railroad Company have built, and are building, their road, and also the high price paid for wheat, will cause farmers to put more ground in wheat than has ever before been put in in this State; this is aside from a very large number of new farms bought or located upon during this year.
The yield of oats, from all we can learn, is better than anticipated; for, although the straw is short and not very promising looking, the kernel is filled out well and the weight will be more than last year. The flax crop is not as large as expected, but further particulars we cannot give at this writing. Owing to the increased demand for teams on the different railroads, the price for oats will probably be well sustained. Of the flax prospect we are not so thoroughly advised.
We have on several occasions spoken of the increased trade enjoyed by Portland and the certainty of our merchants adding largely to their already largely increased business. For the purpose of showing in figures the actual gain in business, we, by courtesy of our four largest grocery houses, Messrs. Allen & Lewis, Corbitt & Morlon, Leveridge, Wadhams & Co., and J. McCraken & Co., give their aggregate sales for the month of August, 1871, as also their aggregate sales for the month of August, 1870. Their aggregate sales for August of this year, in gold, amount to $309,963 90; for the month of August, 1870, the aggregate sales amounted to $220,447 in currency, when gold was worth 116@16 in New York, equivalent to currency selling here at 85c. We have chosen the calmest month of the year since March. During the busy months the sales of these houses are fully half again as large as given above. The very marked increase in business is not confined alone to groceries, but extends to hardware, dry goods, clothing, boots, agricultural goods, etc. Our two largest agricultural houses sold this season fully three quarters as many more reapers and mowers as they did last year, besides selling as many threshers and more headers. Their sales of mowers and combined reapers and mowers aggregated over 400 this season. From Walla Walla and other valleys east of the Cascades many more sold this year than has been sent altogether since the settling up of those valleys. The trade of Portland has only commenced. It is reaching out its arms in all directions and grasping trade which rightfully belongs here, but has been, under mistaken ideas, or a lack of cheap transportation, gone to San Francisco. The railroad has and will continue to bring us orders from firms heretofore dealing in San Francisco. The North Pacific Transportation Co., under the far-sighted and able management of Mr. Holladay, has and will continue to open up new avenues of commerce for us. The O. S. N. Co. has caught the cry of progress and lowered rates on their line, and will in all likelihood make further reductions on up freight, so as to co-operate with our merchants in bringing a large part of the trade of some interior mining counties in Eastern Oregon and Idaho Territory, lost to us, so we have been informed, now by too high tariff. In a future article we will give figures and statements why it is to the interest of interior merchants and traders to purchase here if they wish to buy their goods low.

Merchandise Report.

WHEAT—Market, owing to advices from Liverpool, is drooping and prices less firm than last quotations, for choice shipping or milling, an extra choice for seed would probably bring full quotations of yesterday. We quote range of the market, $1 90@2 05, with sacks, per cental, for fair to choice.

FLOUR—Our millers are intending to pay more attention to the Chilan trade, and for that purpose one of our largest milling companies has made extensive improvements so as to turn out an article suitable for that market. There are two China houses here, the head houses of which, in China, are said to be among the wealthiest there. One of them chartered or loaded 60 large vessels during the last season, in China, for different foreign marts. The trade of these two houses, or as many more as deem it purchasing, is worth looking after, and we are pleased to notice that it is not escaping the notice of our millers. We quote extra at $6 50 per bbl; sup fine, $5 75@6 25 per bbl.

CANDLES—The San Francisco Factory turns out 30,000 lbs per month, and the new Mission Candle Works intend turning out 50,000 lbs, second to none in quality. The orders on the books are ahead of the product. Why cannot we have a factory here? Why cannot we have factories here of sugar, candles, etc? The woolen factories established in this State have a reputation second to none on the Pacific Coast for their products, and we are confident that, equal success would attend other enterprises. Prices very firm.

OATS—We note sales to-day at 51 65¢ per cental.

TURPENTINE—By all advices we learn that prices have been advanced 8cnt and also in San Francisco from 16@33c per gallon. We note a corresponding advance here.

Biography Boiled Down.

Plutarch—I only know of this gentleman by reputation. He is always spoken of in the plural number. "Plutarch's Lives" is a common expression, but how many there were of him I am not prepared to say.

General Duke of Wellington—An officer of the British army. Mr. Longfellow makes honorable mention of him as the "Warden of the Cinque Ports." Cinque means five, and he was the protector of five principal points, usually denominated Five Points. He lived to a ripe old age and died.

Julius Cæsar—Son of old man Cæsar. He was born at Rome in his infancy, and upon arriving at the state of manhood became a Roman. He was a fighter, and a warrior of some note. His friend Brutus one morning asked him how many eggs he had eaten for breakfast, and he replied "Et tu Brute?" His friend became enraged at being called a brute, and stabbed Cæsar quite dead.

Mahomet—Author of the Koran, an exciting romance, which he wrote in the Mammoth Cave at Mecca. He was the author of a religious cree, with which he stuffed Turkey, and tried to get up a broil in in Greece, but failed. Many of his early followers suffered great persecutions. Some of them were burnt at the stake. He had three temples—one at Mecca and one on each side of his head.

Guy Fawkes—A warm-hearted, impulsive Englishman, who believed the Parliament too good for this earth, and devised an expeditious method of elevating the members to a better sphere, but was interrupted in his good intentions, just for which circumstance he would, doubtless, have made a great noise in the world. He was executed for his disinterested benevolence, and was subsequently burnt in a place called Effigy.

Bonaparte, 1.—A harem-scarem sort of a fellow, who got into a position of considerable responsibility in the French nation. The impression went abroad that he was ambitious, which damaged his reputation materially. He gained the respect and admiration of the French nation because, happily, he was not a Frenchman. When asked if he thought he could govern France, he replied, "Of Corsican." The close of his life was not as bright as its beginning, but there was some of it in a narrow compass.

Peter the Hermit—Pete was principally notorious for stirring up a little difficulty between the Christians and the Mahommedans, which extended over a period of thirty years, resulting in numerous excursions by land and water, under the fascinating title of the Crusades. The Hermit was itinerant lecturer, and had he lived in our day would have turned his attention to rumor, thereby saving a deal of bloodal. The Crusades turned out like the auth[illegible] the creed they were intended to annihilate—a false prophet.
—The Fat Contributor.

A TOUCHING TALE OF FASHIONABLE LOVE MAKING.—Lizzie A. and Gertie E., two of the most beautiful girls of the year, fixed their hopes on Henry D., a grand parti, from New York. Both girls are stylish, handsome and rich, and the favored swain was only hesitating in the words of the old song:

"How happy could I be with either,
Were t'other dear charmer away."

Both are girls of the period, and to that must be charged the story I am to tell.

One after-noon, Miss Lizzie and the young gentleman walked through the park after an extended stroll, during which much love making went on, and while passing through the hallst of the Grand Union the lady suddenly tottered and fell fainting into the arms of her attendant. It was a bold strike, and victory for a moment seemed fastened there. Gertie heard of this, and her fertile mind grew tired with scheming. At last a smile grew upon her face. She owns the nicest pony phaeton in Saratoga, and the next day she invited the gentleman to ride. He accepted and made his late. The well-trained horse was quietly going on his way, when suddenly the wheel came off, and the pretty Gertie lay fainting on the hard road. The terrified Henry lifted herin his arms and bore her to a convenient farm house. For two days she refused to recover from the shock. On the third day the remorseful Henry, who was constantly with her, could stand it no longer. He surrendered, she recovered and soon there is to be a wedding in high life. Now comes the touch of nature. Miss Lizzie forgot a few items in attention of the grand coup d'etat and has already congratulated her arrival upon her brilliant victory.—Jenkins' New York Letter to the N. Y. Times.

DEPEND UPON YOURSELF.—This is written for you, young man. Don't depend upon your father's money or position, but make both for yourself. Dr. Franklin could not look out of doors to better than all the rich uncles in the world. A young man left to his own exertions, if he can stem the tide of fortune, will rise to an eminence to which affluence and luxury cannot elevate him.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY, FAMILY EVENING, Sept. 9, 1871.

Gold in New York, 112¼.
Currency, buying, 68½; selling, 69¼.

Steamer Idaho arrived this morning, from San Francisco. She brought a full cargo of assorted merchandise. She sails Sunday, at 5 o'clock A. M., on her return trip to San Francisco.

The steamer Quarts Telfair sails for Gray's Harbor on Thursday.

The steamer John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, is due Monday evening. The steamer Constantine is due on Tuesday.

Harvesting throughout the State is very general. In many instances the yield is greater than estimated, and in others it is fully up to the estimate. The aggregate surplus yield of wheat is not estimated by any at less than 900,000 to 1,000,000 centals, and some even estimate higher. If we add the estimated increase of shipments to this port east of the mountains, we will have added to the above at least 50,000 centals, and if the farmers are able to ship all their surplus at least 90,000 centals more, a total of 130,000 centals. In many localities in the Willamette valley we hear of complaints about foul wheat, but we have as yet been unable to see any that is foul; but on the contrary all samples shown were superior to the average of the choice wheat in California. But still our information in regard to wheat being foul in some localities comes from such sources that we are constrained to place implicit confidence in it. The rapidity with which the Oregon and California Railroad Company have built, and are building, their road, and also the high price paid for wheat, will cause farmers to put more ground in wheat than has ever before been put in in this State; this is aside from a very large number of new farms bought or located upon during this year.

The yield of oats, from all we can learn, is better than anticipated, for, although the straw is short and not very promising looking, the kernel is filled out well and the weight will be more than last year. The flax crop is not as large as expected, but further particulars we cannot give at this writing. Owing to the increased demand for seams on the different railroads, the price for oats will probably be well sustained. Of the flax prospect we are not so thoroughly advised.

We have on several occasions spoken of the increased trade enjoyed by Portland and the certainty of our merchants adding largely to their already largely increased business. For the purpose of allowing in figures the actual gain in business, we, by courtesy of our four largest grocery houses, Messrs. Allen & Lewis, Corbitt & Macleay, Leveridge, Wadhams & Co., and J. McCraken & Co., give their aggregate sales, for the month of August, 1871, as also their aggregate sales for the month of August, 1870. Their aggregate sales for August of this year, in gold, amount to $309,463 90; for the month of August, 1870, the aggregate sales amounted to $226,447 in currency, which gold was worth 116¾ in New York equivalent to currency selling here at 85c. We have chosen the dullest month of the year since March. During the busy months the sales of these houses are fully half again as large as given above. The very marked increase in business is not confined alone to groceries, but extends to hardware, dry goods, clothing, boots, agricultural goods, etc. Our two largest agricultural houses sold this season fully three-quarters as many more reapers and mowers as they did last year, besides selling as many threshers and more headers. Their sales of mowers and combined reapers and mowers aggregated over 400 this season. From Walla Walla and other valleys east of the Cascades more were sent this year than has been sent altogether since the settling up of those valleys. The trade of Portland has only commenced. It is reaching out its arms in all directions and grasping trade which rightfully belongs here, but has been, under mistaken ideas or a lack of cheap transportation, gone to San Francisco. The railroad has and will continue to bring us orders from firms heretofore dealing in San Francisco. The North Pacific Transportation Co., under the far-sighted and able management of Mr. Holladay, has and will continue to open up new avenues of commerce for us. The O. S. N. Co. has caught the cry of progress and lowered rates on their line, and will in all likelihood make further reductions on up freight, so as to co-operate with our merchants in bringing a large part of the trade of some interior mining counties in Eastern Oregon and Idaho Territory, lost to us, as we have been informed, now by too high tariff. In a future article we will give figures and statements why it is to the interest of interior merchants and traders to purchase here if they wish to buy their goods low.

Merchandise Report.

WHEAT—Market, owing to advices from Liverpool, is drooping and prices less firm than last quotations, for choice shipping or milling; an extra choice for seed would probably bring full quotations of yesterday. We quote range of the market, $1 95@2 00, with sacks, per cental, for fair to choice.

FLOUR—Our millers are intending to pay more attention to the China trade, and for that purpose one of our largest milling companies has made extensive improvements so as to turn out an article suitable for that market. There are two China houses here, one head house of which, in China, are said to be among the wealthiest there. One of them chartered or loaded 60 large vessels during the last season, to China, for different foreign ports. The trade of these two houses, or as many more as desire purchasing, is worth looking after, and we are pleased to note that it is not escaping the notice of our millers. We quote extra at $6 50 per bbl; sup rfine, $5 75@6 25 per bbl.

CANDLES—The San Francisco Factory turns out 30,000 lbs per annum, and the new Mission Candle Works intend turning out 50,000 lbs, second to none in quality. The order on the books are ahead of the product. Why should not we have a factory here? Why cannot we the factories here of a good quality, etc.? The woolen factories established in this State have a reputation second to none on the Pacific Coast for their products, and we are confident their equal success would attend other enterprises. Prices very firm.

OATS—We note sales to-day at $1 05@ per bental.

TURPENTINE—By mail advices we learn that prices have been advanced 8 cent and also in San Francisco from 15@20c per gallon. We note a corresponding advance here.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.
Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.
DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where all patients and those requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering from a miserable secret concern from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus, blood disease, or taint in the system! Look at their pallid and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In the horrid situation those sufferers are in, it is impossible for them to look with any pleasure to the future. Look at the many victims of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see them as they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for many years, and who is daily receiving testimonials of cures without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful where they send for medical advice when the health, and in many cases the life, depends on it. Look at the many cases of disease published by the Doctor in a few days, speaking upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from European and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of the ignorant.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by thousands of the youth of this State to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of horrible symptoms, unless combated by scientific means, viz.: Dimness of sight, nervous headache, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the bursting of steam and rattling of chariots, nervousness, weakness of the limbs, confirmed vertigo, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintance, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, nightsweats, pollutions and frequent voidings. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and successful mode of treating this disease which never fails of giving quick and radical relief. He will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove to him or fully to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, [illegible] for the sacred responsibility res
